

THE ELEMENTS OF RHETORIC AND COMPOSITION

"Nobody loves a sorcerer," said the Archmage. "Well, Irioth! Did I come all this way for you in the dead of winter, and must go back alone?" running his hands over the wood and talking to it, that he couldn't see why they made a fuss over. They met in the lane under Iria Hill in the dark of night, long after sunset, long before dawn..troubling harvesters or sailors a hundred miles away..For Golden looked on the Art Magic with genuine humility as something quite beyond him -- not a mere toy, such as music or tale-telling, but a practical business, which his business could never quite equal. And he was, though he wouldn't have put it that way, afraid of wizards. A bit contemptuous of sorcerers, with their sleights and illusions and gibble-gabble, but afraid of wizards.."So you thought. . . you thought that I. . . no!".connections among those arts clear. There was-as the wise men of Roke would say later-no science.had planned this conversation. "To enter the Great House: to go through that door.". It was a public."Ach, it's a witch's den," Crow said, at the whiff of herbs and aromatic smoke, and he stepped.Hearing he was there, the teachers of Roke came, the men and women who were masters of their."Thank you for these and the shoes," he said, and thanking her for the gift, remembered her use..down into the dark, his scarlet cloak billowing up, the werelight round him like a falling star.."Diamond." A few wizards had crossed his path strong enough to make him wary of them, but he had never known one with skill and power equal to his own..clouds, filled with alternating concave and convex lenses. Some hold aloof, following arcane knowledge, seeking ever more patterns.,Irian had waited some hours in the Doorkeeper's chamber, a low, light, bare room with a small-paned window looking out on the kitchen-gardens of the Great House - handsome, well-kept gardens, long rows and beds of vegetables, greens, and herbs, with berry canes and fruit trees beyond. She saw a burly, dark-skinned man and two boys come out and weed one of the vegetable plots. It eased her mind to watch their careful work. She wished she could help them at it. The waiting and the strangeness were very difficult. Once the Doorkeeper came in, bringing her a plate with cold meat and bread and scallions, and she ate because he told her to eat, but chewing and swallowing were hard work. The gardeners went away and there was nothing to watch out the window but the cabbages growing and the sparrows hopping, and now and then a hawk far up in the sky, and the wind moving softly in the tops of tall trees, on beyond the gardens..harm. Each had met his match, and in their final confrontation, somewhere in the Sea of Ea, both perished..To find her on Hemlock's side was a blow..listening in silence..Hemlock's rune, which had two meanings: the hemlock tree, and suffering.. "Sit down," said Hemlock. After a moment Diamond took the stiff, high-backed chair facing him.."I would," she said..the flames died down, and children cried, and women shouted curses after the eagle.."You're not," Irian said. She thought him between thirty and forty, though it was hard to tell;.It's been a joy to me to go back to Earthsea and find it still there, entirely familiar, and yet.Otter walked on a mile, brooding; then circled back, leading Licky to a hillock not far from the far end of the old workings. But in the sleek creature was the mortal mind; and where the stream passes the hill west of Samory, the otter came up on the muddy bank, and then the man crouched there, shivering..So well in hand did Early have Losen's men that within two days the great fleet set forth from Havnor, gathering its tributaries on the way. Eighty ships sailed past Ark and Ilien on a true and steady magewind that bore them straight for Roke. Sometimes Early in his white silk robe, holding a tall white staff, the horn of a sea beast from the farthest North, stood in the decked prow of the lead galley, whose hundred oars flashed beating like the wings of a gull. Sometimes he was himself the gull, or an eagle, or a dragon, who flew above and before the fleet, and when the men saw him flying thus they shouted, "The dragonlord! the dragonlord!".if he was indeed in a plague-stricken place or an island under a curse. He went on. Between a. "I'm Gift," she said, a bit flustered, but liking the fellow. "All right, then, Master Hawk. Put your horse up and see to him. There's the pump, there's plenty of hay. Come on in the house after. I can give you a bit of milk soup, and a penny will be more than enough, thank you." She didn't feel like calling him sir, as she always did the curer. This one had nothing of that lordly way about him. She hadn't seen a king when she first saw him, as with the other one..Otter was slow to recover, to heal. The bonesetter did what he could about his broken arm and his."Come on then, my love," the young woman said, not to him. The mare followed her trustfully. They set off up the rough path round the hillside to an old stone and brick stableyard, empty of horses, inhabited only by nesting swallows that swooped about over the roofs calling their quick gossip..He was gone several days. The Changer's face remained stern, but he blinked, and after a little thought said, "I'm sure - yes - it was definitely the better plan to be honest. What Master did you speak of?". "Oh, yes," Irioth said. "It was my fault." But she forgave; and the grey cat was pressed up against his thigh, dreaming. The cat's dreams came into his mind, in the low fields where he spoke with the animals, the dusky places. The cat leapt there, and then there was milk, and the deep soft thrilling. There was no fault, only the great innocence. No need for words. They would not find him here. He was not here to find. There was no need to speak any name. There was nobody but her, and the cat dreaming, and the fire flickering. He had come over the dead mountain on black roads, but here the streams ran slow among the pastures..the dead of winter, and must go back alone?".Medra did not answer at once. He had never.On his rides, he sometimes passed an old house on a hill among great oaks. When he turned off the village lane up the hill, a pack of scrawny, evil-mouthed dogs came pelting and bellowing down at him. The mare was afraid of dogs and liable to buck and bolt, so he kept his distance. But he had an eye for beauty, and liked to look at the old house dreaming away in the dappled light of the early summer afternoons..
